

The Vila-seca I social group visits Poblet and l'Espluga del Francolí

The social group of Vila-seca I has made a cultural trip to the region of Conca de Barberà. The day began with a visit to the Cistercian monastery of Santa Maria de Poblet, located in the municipality of Vimbodí i Poblet.

The group then went to a traditional Catalan restaurant in l'Espluga de Francolí where they had a brotherhood lunch.

The day ended with a guided tour of the Font Major de l'Espluga cave, where a local guide explained the characteristics and history of the cave; one of the longest in the world formed by conglomerate and one of the few that extends through the underground of an urban area.
