The workers at the Ercros factory in Monzón have donated 150 kilos of food and cleaning materials to Cáritas.

Representatives of the staff contacted the non-governmental organization to find out what their needs were, especially during the Christmas season. And, after three weeks of campaigning, the factory managed to collect 150 kilos of aid that will be distributed among the families of Monzón who need it.

Juan Carlos Carpi, union representative of the Monzón factory, and the intern student, Susana Barranco, were in charge of making the donation to the Cáritas volunteers.
