

The Ercros factory in Tortosa receives Chemistry students from the URV

The Ercros factory in Tortosa welcomed a group of 37 undergraduate, master's and doctoral students from the Faculty of Chemistry and the School of Chemical Engineering of the Rovira i Virgili University (URV).

This visit is part of the "Experience Day" event organised by the Experimenta Hub, with the aim of offering students an immersive experience that brings them closer to the labour market.

During the visit, the students were given a tour of the facilities, while the company's technicians gave them detailed explanations of the factory's production processes.
